

INT. APARTMENT - NIGHT

Danny sits alone in the dark. Debbie enters.

DEBBIE

Dan?

DANNY

In here.

(beat)

I'm sorry it's just not working out is it?

DEBBIE

Here we go. Just say it Dan.

DANNY

What?

DEBBIE

Just say what you're gonna say.

DANNY

I think one of us should move out.

DEBBIE

I do too.

DANNY

I'm sorry.

DEBBIE

What?

DANNY

I'm said, I'm sorry.

DEBBIE

For what? What are you sorry for?

DANNY

I'm sorry that it didn't work out.
I need some time.

DEBBIE

What...what the hell is that supposed to mean? You know you started out real strong and now your finishing like a wimp. Why didn't you just quit while you were ahead?

DANNY

Yeah, that's what I'm trying to do.

DEBBIE

Oh, good. Let's see your face on that one.

Debbie turns on the light.

DEBBIE (CONT'D)

Do you mind? Good. Because I think we've been in the dark long enough. I know why I'm leaving. What's your story? What killed it for you? The radical change in your lifestyle. Decided you wanted to travel lite.

DANNY

Oh come on, Debbie.

DEBBIE

Or was just that you were afraid that somebody better might come along and you would be stuck with me.

DANNY

Look, why can't you just see this for what it is?

DEBBIE

And what is it?

DANNY

What it is, nothing more, nothing less.

DEBBIE

Oh what, two people committed to screwing until they get sick of each other, that's so great. That's really special.

DANNY

Look I don't want marriage. I don't want kids. I don't want to be tied down. I'm not happy. I don't love you anymore.

DEBBIE

Fine. I'm gone. It's done. And you can go back to doing whatever you want to do, with whoever you want to do it with, in whatever orifice you want to do it in.

DANNY

Hey, you leave here knowing one thing, I never fooled around, not once.

DEBBIE

Well, let's just give the boy a medal. Forgive me, I didn't realize it was such a sacrifice.

Debbie storms out of the room, leaving Danny alone.
